StudyNT eNews 1 - January 2018

2018 is already looking like another exciting year with new students starting their adventure in Australia's Northern Territory. Plus there are new providers in Darwin, agent families in Darwin and Alice Springs, and scholarships for all sectors. If you're going to ICEF ANZA this year, StudyNT will be there together with our migration and tourism colleagues. We look forward to seeing you there or in the Northern Territory on one of our families.

News includes:

- 2018 Study in Australia's Northern Territory Scholarships
- IH Darwin opens new campus in Darwin
- Workplace experience
- #Studyinthedry Instagram competition

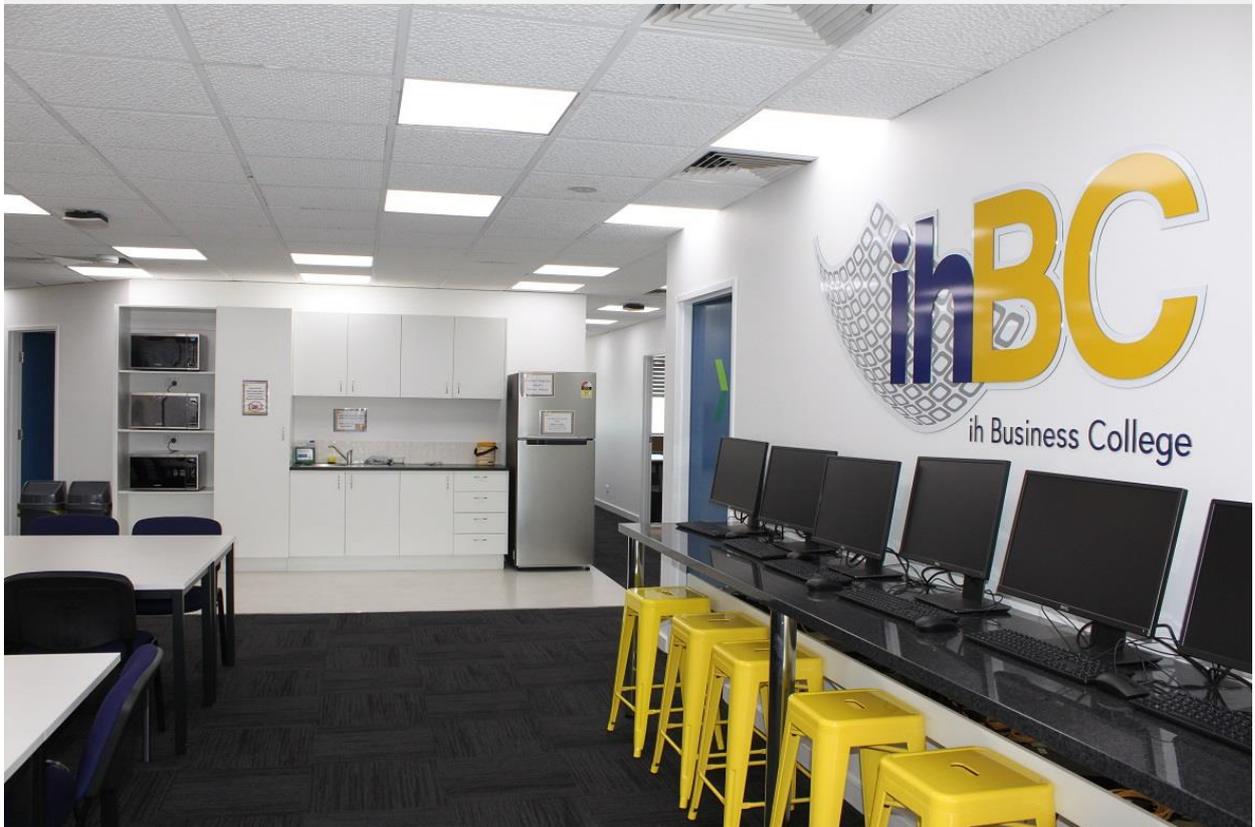

2018 STUDY IN AUSTRALIA'S NORTHERN TERRITORY SCHOLARSHIPS

The Study in Australia's Northern Territory Scholarships are provided by the Northern Territory Government and eligible providers to talented international students based on academic merit, leadership and community engagement. More information available on the StudyNT website.

WORKPLACE EXPERIENCE

Desert Knowledge Australia and the Department of Trade, Business and Innovation hosted international students in Alice Springs, as part of encouraging international students to live like a Territorian and experience different parts of the Territory.

Ajay Francis and Matthew Chackockhan, both studying a Master of Business Administration at Charles Darwin University Business School, travelled to Alice Springs to undertake their 300 hour work placement as part of their studies.

StudyNT works with Northern Territory employers so they can get a better understanding of the value that international students bring to their workplace.

See Ajay and Matthew's experiences in Alice Springs, and hear about Helen's experience as an intern with Deloitte in Darwin, where after undertaking her work placement she is now working full-time.

#STUDYINTHEDRY INSTAGRAM COMPETITION

This is the winner of Study in the Dry Instagram competition - it captures the essence of studying and living in Australia's Northern Territory during the Dry Season. Wei Zhong, studying Electrical Engineering at Charles Darwin University, won the competition and scored himself a $500 gift voucher.
